Former town councillor says party will 'bounce back' LABOUR DECIMATED IN TOWN COUNCIL ELECTIONS

'WE are all determined to bounce back' was the rallying cry from Didcot's Labour representatives after they lost nine seats in the town council elections last Thursday.

After holding a five-seat majority in the town council for four years, Labour lost their majority to the Conservatives, who now have 17 of the 21 seats that were on offer.

The result was a crushing blow to Didcot's Labour contingent, but Oxfordshire County Councillor Nick Hards, who lost his town council seat in the Didcot Orchard ward, believes the national vote played a part in the outcome.

Cllr Hards told the Guardian: "It was such a complicated election, and with the national election coinciding, it meant people voted based on their parliamentary opinion."

"We sent out the leaflets and there was plenty of information for people to read but it just didn't really work in our favour."

Despite the setback, Cllr Hards remains defiant to fight back but believes that this is a decision the people of Didcot could come to regret.

He said: "We'll definitely bounce back, we're determined to do so."

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"These things happen."

"Back in 1995, we had 20 [seats] and the Tories had none but we did our best and if it wasn't enough then that's something the people will have to live with."

South Oxfordshire District Council vice-chairman and town councillor for Didcot's All Saints ward Margaret Turner was joyous of the result and did not believe the national results affected the local result.

She said: "We had a fantastic result so we are very happy."

"The town's people look at planning and infrastructure in the area and hopefully we can do what would be best for the town in that regard."

"We need to sit down and look at the people's priorities. It's important that we listen to them."

"We'll shortly know where we're going and we're very much looking forward to the next few years."

The first meeting of the town council after the election is due to take place on Monday.

See page 3 for a full round-up of the town council's results.

Vaizey wins with massive majority

ED Vaizey increased his majority by more than 8,000 votes as he was re-elected as MP for the Conservatives in the Wantage constituency.

Mr Vaizey, whose constituency also covers Didcot and Wallingford, polled 31,092 votes in last Thursday's election - more than 21,000 more than the second-placed candidate, Labour's Stephen Webb.

Work starts on 885 home Barton Park

WORK has begun on the site where almost 900 homes are set to be built in Barton.

Oxford City Council and developers Grosvenor marked the start of construction yesterday with a ground-breaking ceremony on the Barton Park site, north of the Northern Bypass.

A total of 885 homes will be built, 40 per cent of which will be bought by the city council for use as affordable housing.

The first work sees the construction of temporary access for building traffic from the A40.

City council leader Bob Price, took part in the ceremony.

He said: "The council is delighted to see works starting on site at Barton Park."

"The planning and preparation for the new development has been a key part of our housing plans and these new homes will provide desperately needed affordable housing for the people of Oxford."

"Barton Park will be an example of our ambition to provide high-quality homes."

Grosvenor is building the homes in collaboration with fellow developer Hill, who are due to submit a full application for the first 237 homes in the summer.

They are holding two public consultation events to discuss the proposals - at Barton Neighbourhood Centre on Saturday from 10am to 2pm, and at Northway Community Centre on Tuesday from 4pm to 7pm.

Subject to getting planning approval, the start of house building is expected to start next summer, with the first residents moving in at the start of 2017.

Youngsters enjoy new cycling scheme

A GROUP of Oxford children with autism were handed the opportunity to participate in a cycling scheme earlier this month.

LVS Oxford, which opened last September, sent nearly half of its learners to participate in the Wheels For All Oxfordshire scheme at Horspath Athletic Ground.

The initiative, run by Cycling

Projects, is managed by trained leaders and offers participants the chance to try out a wide range of specially adapted cycles.

LVS Oxford learner Bradley said of his first session: "It was awesome. I loved being able to try different bikes, especially the recumbent bike where you lie right back."

Teacher Tom Heydon was very happy with the session and said: "LVS Oxford aims to enhance the social and emotional well being of our learners. This initiative meets and exceeds our goals in so many ways as it is an innovative way to get them interested in sport and physical activity."

"They had all such a great time and want to get more involved with cycling now."

Head of the school, Jane Straw, said: "Innovative days like this highlight our commitment to the development of our learners."

LVS Oxford has 23 learners and is able to accommodate children with a diagnosis on the autism spectrum through either day or residential placements.

• Four learners work together to power a four-wheeler.

Teen robbed

OXFORD: A 14-year-old boy was robbed of cash while he was with friends in Cricket Road at 5.50pm on May 3.

The boy was approached by a man on a silver bike, who demanded that the victim handed over money before cycling away.

It is not known how much cash was stolen, and the boy was uninjured.

The offender is described as white, in his mid 20s, with short dark brown hair, a thin line of facial hair, and was wearing a long burgundy coat.

Call 101 with information.

Uni gets to £2bn

OXFORD: Fundraising campaign Oxford Thinking, which is raising money for Oxford University, has passed the £2billion milestone.

The campaign began in 2004 to support the central university and all of its colleges, with almost 50,000 gifts being made since it began.

Donations have included £75m from venture capitalist Michael Moritz and his wife Harriet Heyman, and £20m from Hong Kong entrepreneur Ka-Shing Li.

Andrew Hamilton, vice-chancellor of the university, said: "We are extremely grateful to the alumni, friends of the university, charities, companies and many others who have made it possible."

Driver search

ABINGDON: Police are appealing for information after a car collided with a motorbike on Northcourt Road and fled the scene.

At around 6.05pm on April 23, the dark coloured Audi hit a dark blue moped at the junction with Oxford Road.

The car briefly stopped at the scene, but left shortly afterwards.

The rider of the bike, a 19-year-old man, was left with a broken leg and taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital, and has since been discharged.

Man arrested after woman killed on A40

A MAN has been arrested on suspicion of manslaughter after a woman was killed as she crossed the carriageway of the A40 between Barton and Cutteslowe roundabouts.

At 11.46pm on May 1, the 29-year-old pedestrian was hit by a grey Toyota Avensis, and was declared dead at the scene.

The driver was not injured in the collision.

A 38-year-old man from Chipping Norton was arrested last Thursday on suspicion of manslaughter, and has been bailed until May 29.

Senior investigating officer Det Ch Insp Simon Steel said: "We are very keen to hear from anyone who may have seen the occupants of a silver Mercedes in the area just before the collision.

"It is believed that the victim, a young woman of 29, left the silver Mercedes and was walking along the verge of the road before getting onto the carriageway."

Following the incident, two police officers in a marked police car were guarding the scene of the collision when a car crashed into them at 2.25am.

The driver of that vehicle, a 29-year-old woman from Oxford, has been arrested on suspicion of drink driving and bailed until June 24.

Tories devastate Labour in town council elections

LABOUR'S Didcot Town Council contingent was left in ruins after the Conservatives won 17 of the 21 seats available in the election last Thursday.

Labour had previously held a five-seat majority over the Conservatives in the town council but suffered heavy losses in the election, including former town mayor Axel Macdonald, with the Conservatives' biggest victory coming in the Ladygrove ward where they won six seats.

Independent candidate Neville Harris got the remaining Ladygrove seat, with Labour's Bill Atkinson the nearest to gaining a seat, but still 428 votes shy.

Labour did manage to secure two seats in the Northbourne ward with Margaret Davies and Bernard Cooper securing seats alongside Conservative councillors Jackie Billington and Michael Turner.

Labour candidate Des Healy also secured himself a seat, with 21.8 per cent of the vote in the Park ward alongside Conservatives Ben Shaw and Piers Bedford.

The Tories also saw a large win in the All Saints ward as they secured all possible five seats.

There was a close contest in the Orchard ward as the Conservative's Johanna Nash beat Labour's Nick Hards by 19 votes.

Whilst in the Millbrook ward, the Conservative's James Hart gained the seat ahead of Labour's Macdonald by 20 votes.

Labour councillor to become town mayor

DIDCOT town councillor Des Healy is expected to be elected as Mayor of Didcot after being chosen as the 'mayor designate' for 2015 to 16.

Cllr Healy, town councillor for Park ward, is expected to be announced as the mayor at the annual meeting of the council on Monday evening.

At a meeting on March 9, the council were asked by current Mayor of Didcot Scott Wilgrove for candidates for mayor designate and Cllr Healy was selected for the role after a vote.

No other nominations were put forward at the time and the minutes from the meeting reveal that Cllr Healy was rewarded with comments from councillors that he would be a good fit for the role.

As the vote was held before the council elections when Labour held a majority on the council, the Didcot Conservatives, who now hold the council majority, have decided to honour the agreement.

Tony Harbour, Conservative town councillor, said: "We are very happy for Des."

He added: "We are sure he will be an outstanding mayor for Didcot."

Des Healy said ahead of the meeting: "I'm delighted that the Conservatives have allowed the vote to stand, it shows professionalism and integrity on their part."

He continued: "I think it proves to the people of Didcot that we can have a peace and harmony on the council when a transition takes place."

PC sacked after lying to force about stolen car

A POLICE constable based in Oxford has been sacked after lying that his car had been stolen when he had actually arranged for it to be scrapped.

Thames Valley Police constable Tom Mynehan, a patrol officer at Cowley Police Station, was dismissed after lying to the force and his insurance company that his vehicle had been stolen when he had in fact arranged for it to be removed and scrapped.

The constable reported that his vehicle, an Alfa Romeo 147, had been stolen from a lay-by on the A40 between Witney and Carterton on July 30, 2013.

His insurers gave him with a cheque for the value of the vehicle, but after concerns about the report came to light, the force's professional standards department investigated the matter.

At a subsequent misconduct hearing, the panel discovered that he had been lying and PC Mynehan was dismissed from the force last Friday for two breaches of the standards of professional behaviour.

PC Mynehan has not been charged with a criminal offence in connection to the incident.

Detective Chief Superintendent Tim De Meyer, of the force's professional standards department, said: "Thames Valley Police takes reports of misconduct extremely seriously.

"For the public to have confidence in the police they must be able to trust us and there can therefore be no place in the police for those who do not act with integrity."

July finish for London Road revamp

• Construction staff at London Road

BUILDING work on one of to finish a £2.1million revamp Oxford's busiest roads is due in mid-July.

the final stages before the road is reopened in two months.

A new length of bus lane has been installed on the approach to the Green Road roundabout after a widening of the A40 and the A420 on both sides for a new bus stop lay-by.

Cyclists and pedestrians will also benefit from shared space for them on the south side of London Road from Green road to Wharton Road.

The busy road, which 16,000 vehicles use daily, has also been resurfaced for approximately 500 metres from Wharton Road to the Northfield Road junction.

David Nimmo Smith, Oxfordshire county councillor and cabinet member for transport, said: "I am sure that commuters will be as pleased as I am to see that work has finished and that this major route into the city can return to normal."

The improvement work is to be completed on schedule in advance of the work done by Barton Park developers.

Work on Headington's London Road, one of the main routes into the city from the east, has been resurfaced and widened.

Work started last summer and is in

2015 ELECTIONS: Oxfordshire overview

Tories keep Oxfordshire but Labour retains city stronghold

THURSDAY'S election results did not unearth any major shocks across Oxfordshire, with all six seats held by the political party which controlled them previously.

The Conservatives, winners of the overall election, retained their five Oxfordshire seats, whilst Labour kept its stronghold in Oxford East.

But on the national stage it was a victorious night for Witney's

MP and Prime Minister David Cameron for the Tories.

He also managed to increase his Witney majority as he polled 60 per cent of the vote, as well as securing another five years for himself at No 10.

Speaking outside Downing Street on Friday, Mr Cameron said: "The government I led did important work and laid the foundations for a better future and now I truly believe we're on the brink of something special for our country."

"I want to thank all the people that have made the last government such a success and I promise to bring the UK together."

Labour's Andrew Smith also secured a landslide victory as he retained his seat of 28 years, winning 50 per cent of the vote as he beat second-placed Conservative candidate Melanie Magee by 15,280 votes.

Mr Smith gave an emotional speech and dedicated his win to his wife and ex-Lord Mayor of Oxford Val Smith, who is battling cancer.

He said: "Without you, whatever I have achieved in politics would not be possible."

The Conservative's Nicola Blackwood held firm in the previously tight battle for Oxford West and Abingdon, increasing her majority to 9,582 as she beat the Liberal Democrat's Layla Moran in second place.

Ms Blackwood said after the announcement: "I'm really overwhelmed, it's been a very hard fought campaign."

The Conservative's Ed Vaizey was a big winner as he was elected MP for Wantage, polling 20,000 votes more than Labour's Stephen Webb.

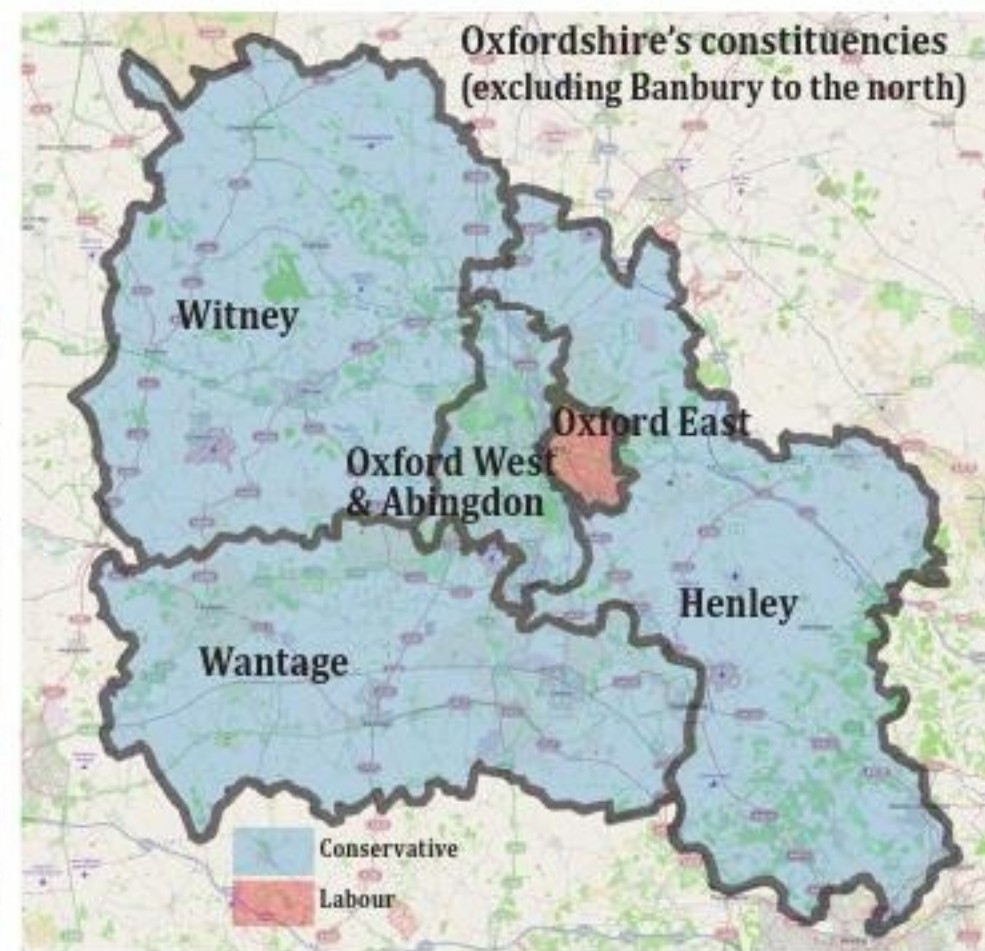

Mr Vaizey said: "It was a hard fought campaign, with some passionate debates about the issues that have concerned people in my constituency."

"I've taken those on board, such as concerns about housing and infrastructure, so I'll be into those."

John Howell secured a huge majority in the fight for the Henley seat, as he earned more than four times the vote of second-placed Labour candidate Sam Juthani.

Mr Howell said: "I'm absolutely delighted. It shows the confidence of the people in the Henley constituency, and that's very touching."

And the Conservative's Victoria Prentis also secured the Banbury seat with 53 per cent of the vote on a memorable election night across Oxfordshire.

2015 ELECTIONS: Oxfordshire's results

Smith in tribute to rivals after increasing majority

OXFORD East's re-elected MP Andrew Smith paid thanks to his challengers after securing his seat that he's held for the past 28 years.

The 61-year-old former secretary of state for work and pensions retained his seat over Conservative challenger Melanie Magee with a 15,280 majority and 4.2 per cent swing for Labour.

After the announcement, he said: "I thank the people of Oxford East for a resounding vote of confidence. I'm very grateful for the spirit and support of each party."

Smith also spoke about the support he's received from the opponents regarding his wife Val's illness: "I'd like to thank each and everyone one of my opponents for their support in what was an emotionally very difficult campaign for me."

Smith, speaking to the Guardian after the result, said: "We've been out and spoken to the electorate all year round and it is the secret to why we're doing so well, we serve our community's need consistently."

"I believe you earn every victory and we've worked hard to earn this."

The Green's Ann Duncan beat Lib Dem Alasdair Murray to third by 437 votes with UKIP's Ian Macdonald finishing in fifth.

Howell reveals his five-year plan for Henley constituency

JOHN Howell saw his majority rise by almost 9,000 in the Henley constituency, as he polled more than four times the number of votes than second-placed Sam Juthani.

His majority of 16,588 in 2010 rose to 25,375 this year as the Liberal Democrats, who had been second at the last election, lost half their votes to fall back to third.

And after securing his win, Mr Howell spoke about what his plans were for the next five years in the constituency.

"I am campaigning for the NHS by having a consultation on Henley's hospital and making sure that the facilities there meet the health needs of the local people," he said.

"It's also about getting things like superfast broadband into homes. It's a very rural constituency, but making sure that it's available."

"Unemployment has fallen 70 per cent since the last general election. We've made sure local companies were in the right place."

Lib Dems see support drop in Oxford West and Abingdon

IT was a miserable night for the Liberal Democrats across the county, as they lost thousands of votes in all six Oxfordshire constituencies.

The party had had high hopes of reclaiming the Oxford West and Abingdon seat, which they lost to the Conservatives by just 176 votes in 2010.

But Lib Dem candidate Layla Moran saw her support dramatically drop from the previous election, as she ended up 9,582 votes shy of Nicola Blackwood's total.

"Of course it's always disappointing, but actually I'm just so proud of the campaign we've run," said Ms Moran after the result was revealed.

"It's clearly one of the strongest campaigns in the country in the backdrop of what was clearly a bruising night for the Liberal Democrats."

She added: "I will not stop talking about the issues and standing up for local people - there are still many issues we need to fix locally and we're not going anywhere."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Tories extend Vale majority

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE Conservatives extended their majority on Vale of White Horse District Council to 20 seats, as they enjoyed a comfortable victory over the Liberal Democrats.

The results from all 24 wards were announced on Friday afternoon at Abingdon's White Horse Leisure Centre, after voters had gone to the polls last Thursday.

A total of 29 Tory councillors will now sit on the council, with nine Liberal Democrats and no one from any other parties.

This compares to the 27 Conservatives, 21 Lib Dems, one independent and one Labour councillor that represented the Vale before the election.

The number of seats on the council was cut as part of cost cutting measures from 51 seats to 38 across the 24 wards (one or two councillors represent each ward).

Council leader Matthew Barber said: "We expected to retain control, even though we've had to make some very difficult decisions in the past four years in regard to planning.

• Vale leader Matthew Barber hears he has won his Steventon and The Hanneys seat

"But we found we were the only political group on the Vale who actually have a plan to deliver for the district, and on the back of the general election, I think we got the result we felt we deserved.

"We've set out a five point plan: we're gaining control of planning, getting infrastructure to the community, keeping council tax as low as possible, investing in leisure facilities, and on flood prevention work.

"We're now able to put that into action and work for the Vale for the next four years."

The result was a huge blow for the Lib Dems, who after previously controlling the council before 2011 now have less than a quarter of the seats.

Former Lib Dem councillors who lost their seats included Jim Halliday, Alison Rooke, and leader of the opposition Richard Webber, who missed out in the Drayton ward by 40 votes.

He said: "I'm hurting, because I think the public need to know there is a big difference between local and national politics.

"I understand they have rejected the Lib Dems nationally, but none of that had anything to do with those working hard locally for a village, and there are a lot of people losing to others with no track record of doing anything."

2015 ELECTIONS: Oxfordshire's results

Sea of blue as Conservatives take 33 of 36 seats on SODC

ALL but three seats on South Oxfordshire District Council are now controlled by the Conservatives, as they convincingly extended their majority control.

The results from the district's 21 wards were announced at Abingdon's White Horse Leisure Centre on Friday.

A total of 33 of the 36 councillors represent the Conservatives on the newly-elected council, with just one Labour, one Liberal Democrat and one Henley Residents Group representative.

Before the election there had been 29 Tories, seven independents, four Labour, four Liberal Democrats, one Ukip, and three vacancies.

The number of seats on the council was cut as part of cost cutting measures from 48 seats to 36 across the 21 wards (one to three councillors represent each ward).

John Cotton, leader of SODC, said: "I'm very pleased, it's a good set of results for us and much better than I was expecting."

"People are very satisfied with how we're running the council, the way recycling's going, happy with the community investment we're doing."

"We're going to tackle some of the big issues around planning and housing, making sure the infrastructure is delivered, keeping the council tax down, things we've been doing already.

"We'll also be looking at some new areas where we could improve."

One of the hardest hit parties in SODC's elections was Labour, who saw their four seats in Didcot reduced to just one.

Only Margaret Davies was elected for the Didcot South seat, with former councillors Eleanor Hards and Bernard Cooper voted out.

Nick Hards, county councillor for Didcot West and candidate for Didcot North East in the SODC elections, was unhappy with the results.

He said: "I'm particularly upset about the result in Didcot South, I think we've lost some good councillors."

"Margaret is perfectly capable of functioning on her own and she's done it before, but it's not good for democracy."

"They need someone to hold the district to account and it takes more than one person to do that - I don't think the district council is going to be in a good place for the next four years."

2015 ELECTIONS: Oxfordshire's results West Oxon and Cherwell

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE Conservatives maintained their stronghold in West Oxfordshire and Cherwell in last week's district council elections.

The results for the elections were announced at Witney's Windrush Leisure Centre on Friday afternoon, following the election the previous day.

West Oxfordshire remained mostly blue as the Conservatives took 16 out of the 17 seats, with the Liberal Democrats beating the Tories to secure Andy Graham's seat for Charlbury and Finstock.

Labour's performance mirrored that on the parliamentary scale as they lost the Chipping Norton seat that they gained in 2011.

The results meant that the Conservatives have maintained a stronghold of 16 seats from the previous election.

The Conservatives also took 14 out of Cherwell's 17 seats, with Labour maintaining two seats in Banbury and independent candidate Les Sibley held on to secure his seat in Bicester West.

Conservative Barry Norton, leader of the West Oxfordshire District Council said: "It was a very exciting result for us, particularly as we secured Chipping Norton from Labour which required a tremendous effort in order to secure that seat."

However, Cllr Norton was disappointed to see the Conservatives lose the Charlbury seat to the Lib Dems, and said: "Local issues were the main cause when it came to losing that seat, there's a strong Liberal contingency there."

On outlining the council's plans for next four years as a result of their election success, Cllr Norton said: "We are going to save money and be smarter by working with the community on the front line."

"It's in our DNA to succeed at this and we are going to improve the quality of life for our residents."

Julian Cooper, leader of West Oxfordshire's Liberal Democrats, was delighted that they managed to secure the Charlbury seat despite the poor vote nationally for the party.

He said: "We are quite pleased we managed to get the seat, it will help up share the burden and to spread the liberal message across West Oxfordshire."

Health check-up for Exiles fans

THE health of London Welsh fans is to go under the spotlight as Oxfordshire County Council have teamed up with the club to offer health checks to supporters.

Welsh's final game of the season against Saracens on Sunday will see fans being offered mini-checks on match day.

They promote the NHS Health Check programme as five mini-check stations will be set up on site, with adults offered the chance to have their blood pressure and Body Mass Index (BMI) measured by trained professionals.

The council's cabinet member for public health, Hilary Hibbert-Biles, said: "Too many people in Oxfordshire are passing up their chance to benefit from a free check."

"We hope plenty of people will stop and take part in our mini check."

London Welsh CEO, Mike Stevens, said: "London Welsh is delighted to be assisting OCC in promoting the programme, and we would encourage all supporters to take advantage of this opportunity."

Participants will receive a reference card and be entered into a prize draw for a signed shirt and mini rugby ball.

New project to support children

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A CHARITY project has launched after a report highlighting the key role churches need to play helping vulnerable young people in Oxfordshire.

The Doorsteps initiative was launched in Oxford yesterday by children's Christian charity Viva.

Police chiefs, leaders of different faith groups and agencies gathered at the King's Centre in Osney for the event, which presented the findings of a report by Viva.

It focused on five major issues facing vulnerable families and young people all across the country.

The five issues were: unstable family life, low self-esteem, lack of aspiration for life, difficulty finding a job, and household poverty.

The 58-page document was compiled by Viva network consultant Katy Thompson over the course of a year.

It featured data gathered from over 200 adults and young people

• Viva's Kezia M'Clelland during a presentation for local church and youth leaders (picture by Viva's Andrew Dubock) across the country.

She said of the report: "The issues facing children and young people here on our own doorstep is significant and complex."

"Often the child or young person is vulnerable because the family is struggling, so we need to work with the family as a unit."

Viva believe churches are well-placed to be a part of this response and state many are active in work with children and young people in their area.

Katy added: "There is a clear need for churches to review their budgets and consider ways to invest more resources."

"In this current age of austerity, they need to step up and step out even more in action, justice and compassion."

The Doorsteps initiative aims to support Oxfordshire churches by mobilising and equipping them to meet the needs of these struggling families.

Rt Rev Colin Fletcher, Bishop of Dorchester, said: "I believe that partnership working is really important, as resources become even more limited we have got to get more skilful about pulling together."

WIN tickets to Charlie and the Chocolate Factory in London's West End!

ROALD DAHL's deliciously dark tale of young Charlie Bucket and the mysterious confectioner Willy Wonka comes to life in award-winning hit West End musical directed by Academy Award® winner Sam Mendes.

When Charlie wins a golden ticket to the weird and wonderful Wonka Chocolate Factory, it's the chance of a lifetime to feast on the sweets he's always dreamed of. But beyond the gates astonishment awaits, as down the sugary corridors and amongst the incredible edible delights, the five lucky winners discover not everything is as sweet as it seems.

A chocolate garden, an army of squirrels and the curiously peculiar Oompa-Loompas must be believed to be seen in this gigantic new musical that is choc-full of fantastical treats to dazzle your senses.

Closing date:

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called “boxes”, “blocks”, “regions”, or “sub-squares”) contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

School's out!

May Half Term at Cornerstone

MAY half term is just around the corner and as always you can count on Cornerstone in Didcot to provide plenty of events to keep little hands and minds busy.

Between Tuesday 26 and Sunday 31 May pop in to Drop-In and Doodle, the perfect event to keep the kids occupied, for free! This month's session is called "What To Draw?", which encourages children to put pen to paper, take their line for a walk and see where their imagination takes them. Cornerstone supplies all the materials; you just need to take your creative juices!

On Wednesday 27 May, 5-12 year olds should dress for mess as they spend the afternoon getting crafty with clay at Clay Sculpture: Animals of the Outback. Children are encouraged to create their own cute or scary Australian animal – be it a furry koala, a jumpy kangaroo, a slithery poisonous snake or even a duck-billed platypus!

Meet Karen the Koala in the stage show How the Koala Learnt to Hug on Thursday 28 May, 2pm. Find out how Koalas came to be the cuddliest critters and just how did they learn to hug? Based on the book How the Koala Learnt to Hug and Other Australian Fairytales by Steven Lee, this charming production is packed with gorgeous puppets, great stories; sing along songs, superb games and first class hugging!

7-13 year olds will love the Animation: Murder, Mystery and Horror Movie Mash Up masterclass on Friday 29 May. This is the perfect workshop for those young Spielbergs and Hitchcocks out there who have ever wanted to star, film, produce or direct their own mini thriller horror movie. Young people will get to learn how to scare, thrill and spook their audience in this all day workshop.

For further information on all the Half Term activities, call Cornerstone on 01235 515144 or go online to www.cornerstone-arts.org

Scruffs Dog Show – 23rd May

COTSWOLD Wildlife Park's annual charity dog show Scruffs returns on Saturday 23rd May 2015. Please bring your dog(s) along to the Park and help raise money for Dogs for the Disabled. The charity trains dogs that can offer freedom and independence to children and adults with physical disabilities and children with autism. They receive no government funding and rely entirely on donations, fundraising and volunteers to continue their pioneering work. Dogs for the Disabled will be attending on the day with their training dogs.

Actress Nicola Blake (who is about to play the lead role in Legally Blonde at Oxford Operatic Society) and John Starley (Dogs for the Disabled Chairman of Trustees) will be our guest judges for the competition. There will be nine classes including; waggiest tail, young handler, golden oldie, best puppy and best trick.

Gates open at 10am. Registration between 10.30am - 12.30pm in the Orangery. Judging from 1.30pm outside the Manor House. Cotswold Wildlife Park has been dog friendly from the day it first opened in 1970 and was recently awarded the Kennel Club's prestigious Be Dog Friendly Award for Most Dog Friendly Day Out in the UK. Normal admission price applies for dog owners.

This practice has invested in the very latest OCT scanning technology.

An Optical Coherence Tomography (OCT) scan is a unique test which uses near-infrared light reflected off the retina to produce a high resolution 3-Dimensional scan of the retina and associated structures.

It is particularly useful in the assessment of patients with AMD, Diabetic Maculopathy, early detection of Glaucoma and the management of these diseases. The test is non invasive, quick and entirely painless.

Am I at risk of Glaucoma?

Are you over 40?
Do you have a family history of Glaucoma?
Are you short sighted?
Do you have diabetes?
Are you of African-Caribbean origin?

If the answer is yes to any of these questions, then you are at an increased risk and should definitely have your eyes tested regularly.*

Why has this practice invested in OCT?

We believe this advanced imagery allows us to detect and monitor early stages of diseases and as this examination is not available under the NHS, we make an additional charge for this scan. Please ask for further details.

This assessment of your eyes using OCT Technology will give us the most accurate diagnosis possible and help us give you the best advice to protect your sight and the health of your eyes.

Your eyes deserve the benefits of cutting edge technology available at this practice.

Musical rolls into town

BASED on the real life events of the American rock and pop band The Four Seasons, the internationally acclaimed stage production of 'Jersey Boys' is at Oxford's New Theatre until May 23.

Starring Lewis Griffiths, Tim Driesen, Sam Ferriday and Stephen Webb, the popular musical follows the journey of a group of blue collar workers from New Jersey on their path to become one of the most successful groups of the last century, despite the odds being stacked against them.

"The audience will always react differently to certain points depending where we are, and it's great to witness their reaction," actor Sam Ferriday, who plays Bob Gaudio told the Guardian.

"Touring the UK and Ireland means we get to play in front of thousands of different people and last summer, I was lucky enough to meet Bob, in Nashville where he now lives. He's a great down to earth guy who is a genius, and to play out his story each night is seriously special."

The Four Seasons, who originally consisted of Frankie Valli, Tommy DeVito, Bob Gaudio and Nicholas Macioci are recognised for their hits such as 'December 1963' ('Oh, What a Night'), 'Sherry' and 'Walk Like a Man' which made them a dominant force throughout 1960's, as the group topped the charts in the US and the UK.

Years of success followed, which lead the group to embark on solo projects while still working with the band.

Lead singer Valli went on to record the 'Grease' theme song for the 1978 blockbuster.

Following their '60s success, former member Bob Gaudio decided to create a musical called 'Jersey Boys' back in 2005 to show the four friends' rise to fame during their youth.

The critically acclaimed musical has gone on to win numerous awards since its inception, with a film version of the show released last year.

"I have seen the film but we are not employed to imitate other actors or Gaudio himself," Sam said.

"We bring 50 per cent of who we feel they are with our research and 50 per cent of ourselves."

"Also, performing on stage means each night the story is told for the first time. As an actor it's important we work to re-create this, but on stage it's 'live' and anything can happen. There's nothing like it."

To this day the group, who have had a total of 13 different members since 1960, have gone on to sell over an estimated 100 million records.

Tickets will cost from £15 to £52.40 during the 11-day run, with 15 performances set to take place during that time.

Living Nurses

TO celebrate International Nurses' Day, which was on Tuesday, 'Living Nurses' will be at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot this evening.

Tickets cost £12.50.

Pirate theatre

From radio to comedy

LISTENERS wake up to his voice every weekday morning.

But following his sell out shows at the 2013 and 2014 Edinburgh Fringe festivals, Absolute Radio breakfast presenter Christian O'Connell is bringing his debut stand-up tour to The Old Fire Station in Oxford on May 16.

'Breaking Dad' will see the 42-year-old offer sex advice to pensioners, talk about the joys of parenthood and give tips on how to deal with a beloved pet death in a packed two hours at the George Street venue.

"What can the audience expect? Good question," Christian told the Guardian.

"They will see a man on the edge with a microphone, telling some stories, some questions, some thoughts and opinions. Mostly half formed opinions."

"They will also see a man with more freedom in what he can say than if they hear my breakfast show!"

The presenter hosts 'The Christian O'Connell Radio Show' every morning, where he is known for his discussions about embarrassing real-life situations.

This has helped the Winchester-born entertainer achieve 13 Sony Radio Academy Awards in the past 11 years.

"The best advice I got given was that I was a storyteller," he explained.

"I get a real kick when people say after hearing me talk about a frustrating or awkward experience, 'I've done that' or 'that felt like it was me you were talking about', as it's not just my story then."

The event has now sold out.

The King's Speech

THE true story of King George VI's stammer will be told when 'The King's Speech' is at the Oxford Playhouse until Saturday.

Following his public speech at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Stadium on October 31, 1925, Prince Albert (also known as King George VI) was encouraged by his wife Queen Elizabeth to see speech and language therapist Lionel Lough to treat his stutter.

Amid Edward VIII's abdication and with the Second World War on the horizon, the monarch was determined to beat his impediment.

"I guess most people would expect to see something similar to the film but it's actually quite a different experience," Claire Lams, who plays Queen Elizabeth, told the Guardian.

"It's a very heart-warming story and audiences are often surprised by how moved they are by the end of the show.

"There is also a kind of political

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

thriller that runs through the play which isn't really in the film, and I think there are more laughs than you would expect."

Following on from the 2011 box office hit, the on-stage production of 'The King's Speech' stars Jason Donovan and Raymond Coulthard, and was directed by Roxana Silbert.

The stage version also focuses on how Queen Elizabeth worked with her husband to overcome the stutter.

Claire added: "We spent the first week of rehearsals doing research on that period of history, which was really interesting.

"However, there comes a point where you have to concentrate on the script and telling the story of the play."

Tickets cost from £14 to £30 for the Beaumont Street show.

There will be several courses and plenty of help on hand for newcomers. There will be six courses to choose from, from 1km up to 5km, taking around 30-75 mins to complete, plus a special string course for very young children, where they follow a line of string to find fun characters. If you've never tried orienteering before, it's a bit like a treasure hunt to find a series of checkpoints around your chosen course. They're marked by flags on the ground and you register each one with an electronic timing chip to record your progress, and prove you've been to them! The challenge arises by there being no set route between the checkpoints and you have to choose your own way, using a detailed orienteering map of the park. It's great fun and the events are supported by Oxford City Council and Up and Running in Oxford, who have supplied some great prizes. Come along any time between 10.00am to 11.30am and don't forget your sense of adventure! The cost is £6 per family group, or £2 for solo juniors.

Hyundai's i40 is ready to go

SOUTH Korean car manufacturer Hyundai have announced the prices for its new i40, which is ready to hit the roads.

The cost of the new model range from £19,600 to £28,850.

The large family car, which was first introduced in 2011, is now available in four different trim levels - the S, SE Nav, SE Nav Business and Premium.

It includes fresh styling and improved efficiency, as well as a new seven-speed dual-clutch transmission, which has replaced the previous automatic transmission.

The most notable redesigns are the front grille and front bumper, and with reshaped front and rear lights.

The S trim on the i40 Saloon includes 16" alloy wheels, Bluetooth connectivity, air conditioning, a leather steering wheel, automatic headlights with dusk sensors and steering wheel audio with telephone controls.

The SE Nav trim has touch screen satellite navigation with a rear view parking camera and parking system.

Priced from £21,600, the SE Nav adds to the S-model's specification with DAB radio, an auto dimming rear view mirror, climate control with auto defog, heated front seats, LED front fog lights and a seven speaker sound system.

The SE Nav Business model goes further, with keyless smart entry and a start/stop button, while the range of Premium models include 18" alloy wheels, a panoramic sunroof with electric tilt and slide, along with a lane departure warning.

"The introduction of new i40 Tourer and Saloon means that the Hyundai range now has a fresher and more dynamic look, with changes aimed to appeal particularly to the requirements of our fleet customers," president and CEO of Hyundai Motor UK Tony Whitehorn said.

"The addition of the SE Nav as a new trim level provides a clear contrast from the traditional SE models and identifies the standardisation of our highly capable navigation system."

Sercombe and Roofe pen new United deals

OXFORD United have started to play their hand early in the transfer window with the capture of Kemar Roofe and Liam Sercombe in the space of two days.

The U's signed midfielder Sercombe from Exeter City on Wednesday on a free transfer after the 25-year-old decided not to sign a new deal at his former club.

Sercombe made 250 appearances for his hometown club and was part of the side that got promoted to League One in 2009.

United previously had a bid turned down for Sercombe in January but United manager Michael Appleton has now got his man.

Appleton said on securing the transfer: "First and foremost he is a very good player."

"He's a terrific competitor and every time we've watched him he has caught the eye."

"We think he will be a major asset to this football club."

Sercombe said after signing a two-year deal, with the option of an additional year: "It's exciting to be joining Oxford."

"It was hard to leave Exeter but I know I've made the right decision."

"I wanted a new challenge and am really looking forward to being part of what Oxford are trying to build here."

Sercombe joins Kemar Roofe, who signed from West Bromwich Albion on Tuesday morning for an undisclosed fee.

Roofe is seen as a coup for United, having starred in the final months of the season at the Kassam Stadium whilst on loan and scored seven goals in his final six games.

The 22-year-old was also nominated League Two player of the month for April and said after signing a three-year deal: "It was an easy decision."

"I have enjoyed my football at Oxford and have been made to feel really welcome and I have also seen how ambitious the club are."

United have also moved to tie down captain Jake Wright,

Smith 'excited' for Le Mans

OXFORD'S Bradley Smith is set to lead the way for the Monster Yamaha Tech 3 team at their home race in the MotoGP French Grand Prix this weekend.

Round five of the 2015 championship is at the famous Le Mans Bugatti race circuit, known for being a tight, twisty circuit.

Smith is aiming to continue his run of five strong results to consolidate his seventh-placed position in the standings in the 28-lap battle.

Smith said ahead of the event: "It's certainly one I've been looking forward to, especially as it's the team's home race."

"I am confident of clinching a top result."

"Last year was quite a tough race for me personally, but I am determined to continue my strong form."

Smith claimed he is also excited to race in front of a potential 100,000 strong crowd in Northern France.

He said: "The crowd is always so ecstatic and passionate about our sport, I will do my best to give them something to cheer about."

Team manager Hervé Poncharal said: "Brad has had some strong results so far this season, so we are sure he can do well this weekend."

Exiles' May prepares for last tie before retirement

LONDON Welsh captain and seasoned Premiership stalwart Tom May believes 'everything is moving in the right direction' for The Exiles to successfully challenge in the Greene King Championship next season and return to the Premiership.

May, who has overtaken Hugh Vyvyn to go third in all-time Premiership appearances after he reached 245 against the Northampton Saints on Saturday and will retire after Welsh's final game of the season at home to Saracens on Saturday.

He has previously been capped by England at international level and made his debut back in March 1999 for Newcastle Falcons.

After a spell in France with Toulon, the 36-year-old signed for Saints before moving to the Exiles in 2013.

May said: "I've been getting very strange feelings about it all and it was emotional enough going away to Northampton at the weekend."

"I've not completely got my head around it all just yet, retiring is going to be hard as playing rugby is all I've known since I was 18."

The centre also spoke of how he sees the Welsh moving forward and being more competitive next season.

He continued: "A few things need to be looked at but every player here is moving in the right direction."

Saints humble Welsh in final away game

LONDON Welsh suffered another day to forget as they were bulldozed 46-0 by champions elect Northampton Saints in the Aviva Premiership at Franklin's Gardens on Saturday.

A 13,362-strong crowd awaited the Exiles and the high-flying home side proceeded to give their supporters a show as they executed six tries, five conversions and two penalties to set up an emphatic victory to give them the five points they desired.

Lee Dickson and Luther Burrell both scored a brace of tries between them on a sunny day in Northamptonshire, as Welsh's penultimate game in the Premiership never got going.

Tuala forced over tries early on despite strong defensive work from the Welsh with Seb Jewell preventing a try from Burrell.

The Welsh then hit back with a thumping period of sustained pressure as Opeti Fonua as denied a try after referee Andrew Small said the number eight has not taken a quick tap from the correct mark.

A scrum penalty for the Saints led to Steven Myler making it 17-0 with the last kick of the first half.

The fly half converted a second penalty just four minutes into the second half and the home side starting pinching from Welsh lineouts, as Dickson benefited to cross for his second of the day.

Shortly after, Chris Elder was called upon to force Ken Pisi into touch and despite the Welsh rallying in a good position before Paul Rowley's pass was intercepted.

Northampton continued to force wave after wave on the Exiles' defence and the Saints secured the bonus point as Burrell scored his first try of the day.

The Saints then added more flare to the scoreline as Burrell grabbed his second before Jamie Elliot went over in the corner.

The result leaves the Welsh still on a point heading into the final game of the season against Saracens at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday.

Oxford too strong for resilient Skolars

OXFORD Rugby League secured a valuable win against a determined London Skolars side with a 38-24 victory at Iffley Road on Sunday in the Kingstone Press League One.

The victory sees Oxford move up to ninth in the table after securing the win that sees them bounce back after a 36-20 defeat to Newcastle Thunder earlier this month.

Andrew Hoggins got the ball rolling for Oxford as he crossed for the opening after four minutes before Matty Blythe added a second try shortly afterwards.

Oxford then leapt into a commanding lead as Danny Thomas, Karl Davies, and debutant Luke Gardiner scored and Adam Brook converted twice as the first-half whistle blew with a 28-0 lead for the home side.

The Skolars came fighting back in the second half and Josh Kittrick gave them a foothold as he went over.

The Blues then halted the charge after Aaron Jones Bishop went over in the corner, before the Skolars turned up the heat with three tries in 10 minutes from Michael Sykes, Matt Cook and Will Lovell to take the score to a 32-24 with 15 minutes to go.

Gardiner brought things back in Oxford's favour as he crossed for his second, with Brook converting to finish the game off.

The Blues continue their season away to Rochdale Hornets this Sunday.

Hard fought battle results in Plato win

JASON Plato picked up his second win of the season in the British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) on Sunday, following a race-long duel in race two at Thruxton with Rob Collard.

The Oxford-born racer was beaten off the line by Collard, but managed to force his way back past into the lead by the end of the second lap.

From then on Collard hounded the BMR driver for the remainder of the race, but wasn't able to get past and ensured that Plato picked up his 90th career win in the BTCC.

"I really enjoyed that, I expected Rob to fall away but he didn't," said Plato.

"He was much quicker in the slow corners and drove really well. I had to be so careful with my car positioning but I enjoy that kind of challenge."

Plato backed up his race two win with fourth in the opener and eighth in race three.

It means he is fourth in the standings with 102 points.

United Women hold on against tough Durham

OXFORD United Women scraped a 1-0 home victory over a feisty Durham Women's side at Northcourt Road on Sunday.

The goal came courtesy of Kat Nutman, who managed to scramble the ball into net.

United were impressive in the opening exchanges as they controlled the ball well but couldn't find that golden opportunity.

Kayleigh Hines proved to be the main danger for Durham and nearly scored a wonder-goal from long range, drawing a save at full stretch from Durham's Helen Alderson.

Nutman found the net for United after Hines headed it down into the box just before the half time whistle.

Durham pushed for an equaliser after the break, but United held on to secure the three points for victory.

Banbury lift cup in dramatic finale

• Joel Meade holds the Oxfordshire Senior Cup aloft for 2015 winners Banbury United.

BANBURY United secured a dramatic win on penalties over North Leigh in a dramatic encounter at the Kassam Stadium last Friday.

United are champions for the sixth time following a 4-3 win on penalties after the teams played out a 4-4 draw in front of a 400-strong crowd.

Jamie Cook put Leigh in front with an eighth-minute header, before Cook assisted Kieran Sanders to make it two.

Jacob Walcott converted a penalty just three minutes later after Aaron Woodley brought down Hicham Abdellah and United drew level after Jack Westbrook executed a world-class volley from 22 yards out.

Banbury went ahead on the hour mark after Leam Howards' shot from close range flew into the net, though Leigh roared back through Callum McNish who slotted home from close range after being played in by Sanders.

McNish put Leigh in front for the second time after he picked the ball up 25 yards out and hit a shot directly into the top right hand corner of the net.

United captain Tom Ryan took the game to extra time after he headed in Abdellah's cross, but the extra periods couldn't provide the winning goal.

Both opening penalties were saved in a tense affair, before both sides put their next three in the net.

But United's Joel Meade won it for Banbury in the end after smashing home his spot kick after Leigh's Morgan Williams penalty was saved.

THREE GENERATIONS OF PLAYERS TURN OUT FOR MR DIDCOT

JAMIE Heapy led out three generations of Didcot's past as Town beat a side of former Reading FC players 2-1 in his testimonial on Sunday at Loop Meadow in front of a 500-strong crowd.

Heapy selected the three sides for each 30 minutes of play, which included Didcot's 2005 FA Vase winning side.

The celebrated side were the first team out of the blocks and took the lead early on after Reading keeper

Phil Brown's goal kick fell to Burton Albion striker Stuart Beavon, who planted it in the bottom corner.

The cup-winning team also included Town joint-manager Ian Concannon, and saw former Didcot defender Danny Campbell play for Diddy for the first time since 2006.

The Reading side also included TV personality Ralf Little and former Didcot manager Ady Williams.

Towards the end of the first period, Beavon and Concannon combined well for the joint-manager to put the ball in the net, but it was ruled offside.

The second period featured a handful of Didcot players from the Hellenic League, though neither side could produce a testing effort.

Reading also picked up an offside goal after Michael Gilkes put a tap-in in the net and Andy Marriott scup-pered a great chance for the visitors.

The third side came from a collection of players from the Southern Division 1 South and West playoffs in 2010 and Stuart Beavon Snr scored a penalty for Reading after Didcot's Andy Williams brought down Michael Gilkes in the box.

Didcot did manage to secure the victory late on when Kevin Cox tapped in from Richard Witt's cross, before he was taken off for Jamie's dad John - an ex-Diddy and Wantage Town left back - to have a 10-minute cameo.

Heapy said after the game: "It was great seeing all the boys together, I've made so many friends at this club so it was great to catch up."

"The banter all came right back in the dressing room with all the Vase boys - it felt like it was only yesterday that we'd won the trophy."
